GRI Profile Disclosure 4.15: Basis for identification and selection of stakeholders with whom to engage.

Delta's stakeholder groups have been identified over a period of more than ten years, with the group categories evolving over this time. Influential groups such as customers and shareholders are self evident. The material interests of the community, staff and regional organisations have been identified through research including staff surveys, community attitude surveys and interest groups in each of the regions where we operate. Also stakeholder network and linkage assessments undertaken for new projects have added to our understanding of stakeholder material issues. The identification of these particular interests has helped Delta focus engagement activities on the elements of the community that have the greatest stake in Delta's business
